and stylist and makeup artist Cathryn van Breene work with party producers Mary Litzinger and Karey Williams of VP Events, Inc to create unforgettable soirees. Thea M. Lignos, editor of a local wedding magazine, helped bring the group together and offers knowledge and advice on finding the best sources for weddings in Santa Barbara. "The moment a client walks in the door, their personal stories and dreams are taken into account," says Kelly, who has worked with socialites and celebrities such as Debra Messing.

"Each bride is unique, and we take this into consideration throughout the entire planning process," affirms Stone. From the initial meeting, the group collaborates to create the desired overall look—everything from beach to vintage chic themes. Stone and Van Breene, who focus on the bride's beauty and style, want their subject to feel confident and beautiful. "As if they just stepped off the pages of a magazine," says the duo. -SAMANTHA HUTCHINSON
